Dear Marketing Director:

Psychotherapy Associates and our Educational Supporters have recently initiated the process of selling exhibit space for our forthcoming 36th Annual International Winter Symposium on "Addictive Disorders, Behavioral Health and Mental Health" (January 27-29, 2010). This education and training program will be held at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

We would like to invite your program/company to exhibit at our forthcoming 2010 Winter Symposium. We are expecting over 800 attendees from the fields of Addictions, Behavioral Health and Mental Health. Come and network your company/program and be a part of one of the largest symposiums in the Midwest!

Enclosed please find the necessary information needed to exhibit. The booth fee is $850 and all exhibits will be located in the newly remodeled ballroom. A diagram of the exhibit area and additional information pertaining to the exhibitors are enclosed.

If you have any additional questions, please feel free to contact me at 719-594-9304/719-597-5959, fax 719-597-0166. You can also access our web site at www.ggforrest.com.

Sincerely,

Sandy Della-Giustina, BS

Psychotherapy Associates, P.C., 36th Annual Advanced International “Addictive Disorders, Behavioral Health and Mental Health” Winter Symposium is one of the largest Behavioral Health symposiums in the Midwest. This symposium, located in Colorado Springs since 1974, attracts a wide variety of attendees from throughout the United States, Canada, and abroad. We expect over 800 participants to attend the 2010 Winter Symposium. The 2009 program included some 825 participants and 28 exhibitors. Attendees include physicians, psychologists, social workers, private practitioners, family and marriage counselors, E.A.P. specialists, community agency personnel, counselors, rehabilitation and substance abuse counselors, program administrators, the military, university faculty, nurses, and LPC’s.

Exhibitors have found that the exposure provided by exhibiting at our Winter Symposium is an excellent method for educating attendees about their products, programs, and services.

All social breaks are located in the exhibit area so as to provide maximum traffic. Exhibitors are provided with two complimentary registrations to attend the symposium. As an exhibitor, you will also be provided with a 10’ x 8’ booth, table, two chairs, and one wastebasket.

This internationally recognized symposium brings together a distinguished faculty to address the issues of treatment, recovery, and research in the Behavioral Health field. Seminars focus on such topics as family therapy, cocaine dependency, eating disorders, alcoholism, medical issues, differential and dual-diagnosis, domestic violence, compulsive gambling, multi-cultural issues, women’s issues, co-dependency, sexual problems, community corrections, psychopharmacology, sleep disorders, trauma, ethics, major mental illness, ADD/ADHD, personality disorders, affective illness, opioid/prescription drug abuse, methamphetamine dependence and many more.

Continuing education credits for physicians, psychologists, nurses, alcohol and drug counselors, and health service providers are available for symposium participants. Self-Help meetings are also an integral component of the symposium.

Featured speakers for our symposium have included Robert J. Ackerman, PhD; Vicki Berkus, MD, PhD; Claudia Black, MSW, PhD; Father Leo Booth; Thomas E. Bratter, EdD; Bruce Carruth, MSW, PhD; Ann D. Carden, PhD; Linda L. Chamberlain, PsyD; John R. DeQuardo, MD; Albert Ellis, PhD; Chad Emrick, PhD; Frank Farrelly, ACSW; Gary G. Forrest, EdD, PhD; Jeffrey L. Fortuna, Dr. P.H.; William Glasser, MD; Terrence T. Gorski, MA, CAC; Robert Hare, PhD; Robert (“Roy”) Hazelwood, MS; John Helzer, MD; Richard Irons, MD; Thomas L. Jewitt, MD; Ron Johnson; Arthur P. Knauert, MD; Ernest Kurtz, PhD; Gary Lawson, PhD; Ann Lawson, Ph. D.; Rokelle Lerner, MS; Cloé Madanes; G. Alan Marlatt, PhD; Father Joseph Martin; James F. Masterson, MD; William Miller, PhD; Robert Mines, PhD; Jack Mumey, MA; Cardwell C. Nuckols, PhD; Michele Packard, PhD; E. Mansell Pattison, MD; Joseph Pursch, MD; Jennifer P. Schneider, MD, PhD; Howard J. Shaffer, PhD, CAS; Jacquelyn Small, MSW; M. Duncan Stanton, PhD; Robert Subby, MA; Thomas Szasz, MD; Elizabeth Stuyt, MD; Jack Trimpey, LCSW; John Wallace, PhD; Kevin Wandler, MD; Kenneth Wanberg, ThD, PhD; Sharon Wegscheider-Cruse, MA; Robert Weiss, LCSW, CAS; Sharon Wilsnack, PhD; Janet Woititz, EdD and Robert E. Wubbolding, EdD.

This program is organized and designed to provide ample audience participation and interaction with the speakers.

As with past symposiums, the 2010 program will provide time for professionals involved in Behavioral Health treatment to exchange information, expand professional skills, gain new knowledge, and hear renowned speakers share their expertise. A vital part of these processes involves you — the exhibitor.

Please look over the enclosed exhibitor information and contract form. After you have reviewed the materials, complete the contract, enclose your deposit, and return to Psychotherapy Associates, P.C.

We look forward to including your exhibit at our 2010 Winter Symposium! For further information, contact:

As an exhibitor, you will:

1. Receive two complimentary full-week registrations.
2. Receive a 10' x 8' exhibit booth, one draped table, two chairs, and wastebasket.
3. Be able to market your treatment program and services.
4. Interview/hire staff.

And most importantly,

5. Develop referrals and referral sources.
6. Be listed on Web site www.ggforrest.com

The financial and manpower returns on your exhibit investment are potentially phenomenal.

Our past exhibitors have included the very best behavioral health treatment programs in the Midwest and throughout the U.S. Don't let the opportunity to exhibit with us slip by! Please feel free to call or write if I can help with your participation in our 2010 Symposium.
